

Ben King

Loatland Ward By-Election
Thursday 19th July 2012

Ben, aged 28, has lived in Desborough since he was one year old. He is very concerned about his home town, and is determined to see its shopping, leisure facilities, roads and services improved. Also Ben knows first-hand what it's like for younger people who struggle to get a place of their own and will campaign for more social and affordable housing.

Ben studied Geography at the University of Leeds, acquiring the skill to assess and analyse local issues and solve problems effectively. His main employment has been in the public sector, helping to improve the quality of social care and support customers. Ben also demonstrates commitment in his personal life as a volunteer and Trade Union representative, standing up for people in the workplace and seeking fair treatment for all. He really cares about people, and is empathetic and supportive.

Ben has been through tough times, and had cancer in 2000 and 2004. He says that the NHS service was "Excellent!", but is afraid that this quality service is under threat in the hands of the Tories.

Ben's experiences have made him passionate to achieve the best for Desborough and its residents. You can trust him to listen to you, and care about your views. These are qualities that you can expect from Ben if he is elected as Town Councillor.
